The Dizz now has the Best View in Hampden

Submitted by Betsy Childs

The Dizz, a Remington icon for good food and good fun, is growing. A bit of Remington is stretching into Hampden and oh what a view it has!

On September 1st The Dizz is also opening a small gift shop. It will be right next to The Dizz on 30th street. It will feature some items from Charm City Cakes (located across the street from The Dizz) and it will also have many works of local Baltimore artists. This is great news for the tourists that come to have their photo taken at the front door of Charm City Cakes -now they can get a tee shirt too! And it brings a nice local owned business to Remington.

The Dizz manager, Elaine is staying busy. On Thursday, September 2nd The Dizz will open their second restaurant location.

The buzz in Remington is growing as we learn they had taken over The old GrandView Restaurant located at the top of 3838 Roland Avenue in Hampden.

Elaine said they have totally renovated the location. It is now called The Dizz GrandView. This place is a must-see.

The restaurant is at the top floor of a senior high rise building and the view there is phenomenal. All of Baltimore can be seen from JHU to the Inner Harbor almost to the airport itself. Simply fantastic.

They will have the same basic menu that you get at The Dizz. It will be open for lunch, starting at 11 a.m. and will serve dinner. Also, in respect to their location, they will be offering a senior's menu to accommodate residents of the building.

This is a wonderful restaurant for an afternoon business meeting or a place to bring your out of town guests for a true Baltimore meal.

Community Health Fair & REMFEST 2010

Saturday, September 11th from 11am - 4pm

Held at the 300 block of W. 27th Street

It's time to enjoy the Remfest and the Community Health Fair. The Health Fair will have various health information along with free Vision testing, a Dental hygienist, an Orthopedic doctor from Union Memorial and more.

Remfest will be in full swing with live entertainment, free food, Hula hoping, and crafts and games for both young and old Remington Residents, and community information like about Feral cats, Project Lightbulb, The Girl Scouts, The Homework Club and more. Come have a relaxing afternoon in Remington.

REMINGTON SCIENCE CAMP

Submitted by John Rowley

This fall Remington will have its own Science Camp. The theme for the camp will be 'Energy and the Environment'. Participants will learn about the technology our civilization uses to generate and consume energy.

Each session will have a hands-on project where the students will problem-solve their way over the technological hurdles overcome by modern science. Experiments span science, art, physics, and engineering. Needless to say it will be extremely fun: from making electric motors, to constructing solar ovens, to powering a light bulb with fruit.

The camp is FREE and open to youth 11 to 16 years old. The camp will be held Tuesday and Thursday evenings in Kromer hall (Remington and 27th St).

The first session of Science Camp will be on September 21st. The project sessions start at 6pm and finish at 8pm. Dinner will be provided. Students will need to maintain basic safety expectations to participate.

Science camp is funded by a generous grant from the Baltimore Community Foundation, and organized by GRIA members. Registration for Science Camp starts now! To register, fill out the form included in the newsletter and leave it in the mail box for GRIA at the Church of The Guardian Angel Parish House (2629 Huntingdon Avenue). Or email the Science Camp organizers at: RemingtonScienceCamp@hotmail.com. The deadline to register is September 12th.

If you are interested in helping out with science camp, or want more information please contact the Science Camp Organization Team at: RemingtonScienceCamp@hotmail.com

25th Street Station Development Update

Submitted by Judith Kunst

The Greater Remington Improvement Task Force for the 25th Street Station Development has been diligently attending meetings concerning the 25th Street Station Planned Unit Development and working hard to help make it a strong development the community will be proud of.

On August 5, 2010 there was a Planning Commission hearing which many of you attended. After four hours of discussion and deliberation, the Planning Commission voted unanimously to recommend that the City Council approve the PUD with amendments.

On September 15, 2010 at 2:00pm the City Council's Land Use and Transportation Committee will hold a public hearing on the project at City Hall. This committee will hear reports from City agencies and testimony from the public to determine whether to give this bill a favorable or unfavorable recommendation. The outcome of this hearing will determine the next steps for the PUD legislation.

We have also been working with the Department of Transportation and have posted a matrix of traffic calming actions GRIA and the surrounding neighborhoods have asked for on the GRIA website. We realize traffic is a concern and are working on finding solutions.

This development will bring many retail and construction job opportunities. We are also working with the Mayor's Office of Employment Development to bring these jobs – and job readiness programs -to Remington residents.

It is important that every voice be heard on September 15 by our city officials. Please come and let the City Council know how you feel about the development coming to Remington. If you cannot attend please email or write the council person representing Remington and the development, Councilwoman Belinda Conaway, and the Land Use and Transportation Committee's staffer, Antoine Banks.

For more information about the Baltimore City Council, call Councilwoman Conaway at 410-396-4810 or go to their website, www.baltimorecitycouncil.com.

If you want to get involved or have questions, e-mail GRIA at info.gria@gmail.com or call Judy Kunst at 443-472-5763.
