HAUNTINGDON V

The end of the world!

Saturday October 27th

5 pm till 8 pm

2900 block of Hauntingdon Ave.

Hauntingdon V: End of the World is Baltimore's premier family-friendly Halloween block party extravaganza! A community driven event, Hauntingdon provides a fun, free, and safe place for children of all ages to enjoy Halloween.

It takes place Saturday, October 27, 2012, from 5 pm-8 pm, on the 2900 block of Huntingdon Ave. with the whole block closed off for the fun!

Dozens of decorated porches provide fun trick-or-treating spots for kids to engage in activities, centered on this year's theme: End of the World, with a special emphasis on the environment.

Join Haunty, the GIANT CRAB, in the children's costume parade! Watch as Fire dancers gleefully prance to live music of local favorites Ricky and Lennon La Ricci! Explore the decrepit Haunted Sewers of Old Remington as their slime covered walls shift before your eyes!

Artwork and decorations made by Remington youth created in the community-run Porch Art weekly workshops is prominently featured, but grown-ups aren't left out of the fun! In the months leading up to Hauntingdon, crafting sessions are held throughout the community to get all the houses on the street prepared.

Hauntingdon is in it's fifth year and is just getting better and better! Presented by GRIA - the Greater Remington Improvement Association - this year's Hauntingdon is bigger than ever before. A special thanks to all the sponsors, neighbors and volunteers that have made this possible!

Keep Winter Out of the House

Free Winterization of your home!

On Nov 3rd, between 10 am and 2 pm neighborhood volunteers are working with Alpha Phi Omega, a local JHU fraternity in preparation for winter. Greater Homewood Association is providing support and Episcopal Housing Corporation is sponsoring the event.

Don't wait to call and sign up to confirm your participation in the Annual Remington Winterization Project that takes place November 3rd. .

The APO fraternity will do winterization work that will include installing plastic on the windows to keep cold air out of the homes, installing door sweeps, insulating the pipes to prevent freezing, and other preparations for the cold months. These steps will help lower heating bills and keep the house warmer when the temperatures drop.

It is FREE, but you must call ahead and make sure you are REGISTERED.

Appointments will be set up for that date and a time convenient for you. Participants are required to be at the house when the volunteers come to their homes at the appointed times.

If you have a house in need of any of those pre winter steps, contact Kazia Snipes, Remington Community Builder, at remingtoncommunitybuilder@gmail.com or call her at 443-803-1952 or 410-366-6200. She will go over the work that can be done and ask you specifics about your house and what is needed to get your home more secure for the upcoming winter.
